PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

My extensive experience as an educator has provided me with a strong foundation in classroom management, curriculum design, and adaptability to meet students' individual needs. After a successful 16-year career as an English teacher, I have redirected my passion for well-being toward nutrition and dietetics. I am currently in my third academic cycle and eager to complete my internship in the field of nutrition to apply my knowledge practically and contribute to overall well-being. This unique combination of skills allows me to approach people's health holistically, merging my teaching experience with specialized nutrition knowledge.
