
Dear all:

My name is Pablo Daniel Borzone Ferreiro and I sent this cover letter to express my interest in being part of his team. I would love to hear about any positions you may have in the near future as I am a big fan of the brand.

In my CV you will find a summary of my training, skills and professional experience. I am passionate about design and communication. In addition, I completed specialized courses in institutional identity, communication and creative project management that can be very useful in the performance of my duties. I have also developed vast experience as an entrepreneur in the commercial universe, so I have been in contact with the multiple and diverse areas with which a business organization in Argentina interacts.

I believe that my qualities will benefit the team and I sense that it is the ideal place to expand my career not only as a graphic designer, but also as a human being, since I am always willing to learn new skills and collaborate on new creative projects.

I appreciate your attention and I look forward to new information on this matter.

Sincerely,

Pablo Daniel Borzone
