Teacher Assessment: Comment on general progress, commitment to study and areas for improvement

Natalia has been a very committed and hard-working student in our class at NCG. Her attitude to learning and studying is second-to-none. In the class, she is always ready and willing to participate – her influence in the lessons is clear to see, especially during group and pair work with other students. She can communicate her thoughts and asks pertinent questions during activities – this is beneficial for herself as well as others. Natalia has a good understanding of most grammatical points, which helps her to comprehend reading texts quickly and efficiently. She has a wide range of vocabulary at this level and can often recall more obscure words during a lesson. Listening is one area she might focus on improving, as well as pronunciation, which is rooted in her own language. I suggest listening to a range of authentic radio shows and podcasts, in order to better recognise and reproduce native English-speaking sounds.

Natalia's attitude and conduct set a good example for others to follow. She is much appreciated by classmates and teachers, and I am sure she will continue to improve her English language skills in the future.
