

SEATTLE CENTRAL COLLEGE

Continuing Education

Date: 5/15/2023

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter confirms that Luz Zana completed the Au Pair Weekend: "Discover the U.S." course offered through Seattle Central College Continuing Education. Students were able to complete this course between the dates of May 12th-14th, 2023 in Seattle, WA. Course hours were verified upon the date of completion. Students completing this course received 36 educational hours.

The course description is listed below:

In Discover the U.S., students deepen their cultural understanding of the United States while learning about U.S. history, geography, politics, government, and other key aspects of American culture. Through a combination of lecture classes taught by experienced instructors and related activities and discussions with fellow students, students will be better able to understand and appreciate their experiences here in the States. Students also have the opportunity to share their own cultural background and experiences, as well as learn about and explore historically and culturally significant locations in the United States.

If you have any questions or concerns about this course, please feel free to contact Rachael St. Clair at Seattle Central College Continuing Education, at rachael.stclair@seattlecolleges.edu or (206) 934-5449.

Rachael St. Clair
Director of Continuing Education
Seattle Central College Continuing Education
1701 Broadway 2BE1140
Seattle, WA 98122
Conted.central@seattlecolleges.edu